Movies will range from new releases to instant classics and will fit with the campground's theme weekend or other planned activities at the campground.

"Cinema Under the Stars was a collective effort to continue to accommodate the growing trend of travelers looking for unique, socially distant vacation experiences," said Thousand Trails' spokeswoman Pat Zamora. "What sets Thousand Trails apart is our amenities and regularly planned activities. We have changed things up a bit to entertain our guests while allowing for social distancing, but campers are still coming out to enjoy the fresh air and new events like this to have some fun," Zamora added.

Select campgrounds were provided state of the art, 16 or 20-foot wide movie screens and equipment to ensure guests enjoy a positive outdoor movie experience under the stars.
